recruitment audit.

hireful will take a look at how your client currently recruits & advertises and provide feedback into how they may be able to recruit more effectively.

We'll send you an email with pointers and tips and how working with you could add value to their organisation.

glassdoor & indeed audit.

Get a breakdown on what your clients are doing well on Glassdoor and Indeed, as well as a checklist of things to do to improve how their brand is perceived by candidates.

diversity & inclusion audit.

We're hearing more and more "we'd love to interview and hire a more diverse set of applicants, but they don't apply". To which the obvious question is "why don't they?"

Our report will provide best practice answers on things like:

- Capturing, processing and analysing diversity data, as well as how to act on this
- Attracting diverse applicants from the job advert and careers pages
- Updating the interview process to minimise bias.

recruitment agency terms.

If your clients work with multiple agencies, it's in their interest to have their own terms and conditions that they work to. If they don't have anything in place, they can use our template.

employee engagement survey.

We'll build and deliver a free employee engagement survey for your clients.

Included in our free survey tool:

- Branded survey, built by us
- 16 standard questions
- Access to your private results page

job advert copy guide.

Our free advert copy guide will help your clients create authentic and engaging adverts.

- Attract the right candidates whilst repelling the wrong ones
- Appreciate what information is important and what you can ignore for now
- How to write a professional advert that is easy to read and engage with
- Understand how to stand out from the crowd and attract higher-quality candidates
- Create a job advert template for all future vacancies

GDPR audit.

Is your client's recruitment process GDPR compliant? Not sure?

Request a free audit and we'll let you know how things are looking from a GDPR compliance perspective.
